

Unified Communications and Collaboration as a Service for Government

Designed. Delivered. Optimized. Together.

Help improve the efficiency of your operations with Verizon's enhanced collaboration solution.

Technology is transforming the workplace and yours is no exception. Empower your people with the tools to connect with constituents, colleagues and partners.

Verizon Unified Communications and Collaboration as a Service (UCCaaS) for Government allows you to integrate your communication tools into a single platform. Your team can access enhanced collaboration services.

UCCaaS for Government is cloud based, and that means it's easily scalable – no need for big capital expenditures to get started or expand services. You can add the services you want, enabling you to control costs and simplify management. You get all the benefits of ownership without the hassle or costs of maintenance or upgrades.

Our solution is built with layered security, multiple points of redundancy and native integration; backed by Verizon service-level agreements (SLAs). We can provide a fully-hosted service and support you in integrating with your required third-party applications.

Make communications work for you

By moving your communications system to UCCaaS for Government, you can transform how you operate. Give your employees the communication and collaboration tools they need to design and build new services faster, and to provide more responsive services to citizens.

UCCaaS also allows your IT team to focus on core, strategic projects that advance your agency's objectives, rather than having to focus on maintaining your communications tools.

Our solution can help you:

- Boost productivity, efficiency and teamwork.
- Streamline supply chain logistics.
- Improve responsiveness and time to delivery.
- Reduce travel-related expenses.

Deployment Expertise

Leverage Verizon's implementation expertise to help you build a custom communication solution from scratch or integrate tools from multiple vendors. Verizon has a dedicated Federal Program Management Office to provide oversight of our US-based implementation teams. Our UCCaaS designs leverage our networking and VoIP/SIP (VISP) experience to provide a high quality operating communication environment. To support your end-user experience, Verizon provides adoption services to bridge the transition between pre and post implementation support. Our proven engineering teams can assist to integrate your third party applications for a seamless design. A successful implementation enables UCCaaS users to confidently adopt the technology to enhance interactions and decision making among constituents, colleagues, and partners.

Cost control

With a predictable monthly subscription, you can better manage operational expenses. UCCaaS provides you with greater control of your total cost of ownership while allowing you to enhance continuity, flexibility and security.

Reliability

UCCaaS is an end-to-end workforce communication and collaboration solution that manages, monitors and secures your tools. It provides access to flexible bundles of Cisco services that natively integrate into Verizon network services. Our SLAs back our commitment to high-quality services. Verizon's UCCaaS for Government is built on Cisco's FedRAMPSM Authorized HCS-G Hosted Collaboration Solution for Government.
